Encyclopaedia Britannica Honorarium
Question

Attached is a letter from the Encyclopaedia Britannica offering to pay an honorarium of $1500.00 or to send a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica in gratitude for my writing an article for them on human rights.

My question is whether it is possible to designate the honorarium for ascharitable institution. If not, is it possible to designate the Encyclopaedia Britannica for a charitable institution or ask that it be sent in the name of D/HA?

Thanks.
